But God is Faithful (1Cor 10:13)

God interrupts our temptation. As a child I remember reading about the two hapless heroes Frank and Ernest in the funny pages. One particular comic strip placed the two in front of a priest where Frank asks "How come opportunity only knocks once, but temptation beats at my door every day." Frank seems to hit the nail on the head when it comes to temptation, the enticement to sin. Every day we are bombarded with enticements from the world the flesh and the devil to transgress against the law of God. That's why when I was being discipled in Atlanta the second memory verse we had in our heart was 1Cor. 10:13. The promises contained in this verse are a bold fast in the midst of the strongest enticements that we will encounter in life. "But God is faithful" is the dynamite phrase that illuminates a route of escape thru the mightiest of temptations. Every member of God's family can have a first hand

I. Our Temptation is Collectively Common

We live in a world today where many who indulge in the wickedness of this world claim an exceptionalism or condition that makes them immune to God's continual temptation.

But Paul levels the playing field. Everyone is equally

A. The Selection of Temptation is Common

"No Temptation" That pretty much covers them all. The first step to indulging your self in some sinful temptation is to justify it due to your particular susceptibility. You may glance around the church and think to yourself: "I bet I'm the only one that has to battle with this particular urge and temptation" But the word of God says no! You're not a special case You are just as filthy and will as every other sinner

B. The Strength of Temptation is Common

The phrase "take you means to seize or grab. Not only do we like to think that no one shares in the particular select of temptation, but no one shares with us in its strength. This sinful desire doesn't pull at everyone else like it does you. The author writes: The many a temptation strike

The pull of the alcoholic to drunkenness or the homosexual to sexual perversion or the thief to his greed is no greater than the lie to his untruths or the gossip to his

II. Our Temptation is Completely Conquerable

But God, God intersects our temptation. Martin Luther, the great reformer said: When I find myself assailed by temptation I forthwith lay hold of some text of

- 1) ...a first hand experience of the faithfulness of God in the thick of temptation by laying hold on the three powerful promises laid out in this verse before us today.

But the moment you start calling on God, he'll start calling on you. He'll bring you into situations that will test your faith and your resolve. That's the way God does it.

2) ...every other sinner in the building.

Again God chose us to go out there. You still edit my post and I still have to live with it. But I'm not a very dignified person. I'm a young man of flesh. We're one big, it's not a club of us. And I think it's important to remember that we're not unique in our sins.

3) ...the way a temptation strikes you, and grips you is not unusually strong. It may be strong, but it is no stronger than it has been in lives of others!

4) ...or the gossip to their tale baring. Thinking yourself a special case when it comes to the strength of temptation turn you over to a defeatist attitude. Take heart Christian! Your temptation is not unique to you. Victory can be had!

Want to help your child eat to your meal plan? (I promise, it's not as bad as it sounds!)
Want to eat healthy but don't know where to start?

- 1) Psalms 103:13-14 Like as a father pitith his children, so the LORD pitith them that fear him. For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.
- 2) ...five year-old girl that disobeyed her parents, and was sent to her room. After a while her mother came up to talk to her. With tears in her eyes, the little girl asked, "Why do we do bad things, mommy?" Her mom thought for a minute and said, "Well, sometimes the devil tells us to do bad things, and we listen to him. We need to listen to God instead." The little girl sobbed and said, "But God doesn't talk loud enough!" Well this text rings loud and clear! We have the promise of God's faithfulness at we face the strongest of enticements to sin.
- 3) ...that he had broken his arm in two places. The doctor's reply: "Well then, stay out of those places." God makes a bypass for temptation, take it. The lost sinner in the slave of sin. He cannot escape it. But Romans 6:12-14 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof. Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God. For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace. There is a way out. Take it!

the Bible which Jesus extends to me. 1 Cor 10:13 is extended

A. Conquerable by God's Dependability-

But God is faithful! The word here translated faithful here means: trustworthy, trustful, believability, sure & true! Our temptations

- taken is conquerable because God is dependable! Don't ever feel that the enticement to sin is greater than you can bear. God knows your threshold he knows your frame Ps 103:13-14 Like a father piteth his He will not allow you to face any temptation that you by his grace can not overcome. I heard a story about a little five year old

B. Conquerable by God's Detour - The proof of the faithfulness of God is found in the fact that he makes a way of escape. The word literally means a way out. An escape route, or detour bypassing the the tripwire of temptation. A detour that Joseph took when he fled from the sensual advances of Potiphar's wife. The by pass we are encouraged to in 1 Th 4:14 in Ch 6:18 flee fornication & turn & flee youthful lusts. Did you hear the one about the man who went to the doctor complaining (3)

III. Our Temptation is Carefully Constructed

You know one line of thought right about now would be: Why doesn't God prevent temptation as a whole, if God not remain temptation all together. Although

A. Constructively Prescribed - Now when we get around the subject of temptation to sin and the Sovereignty of God, we must be clear where the Bible is clear. James 1:13 says God has prescribed temptation allows temptation in our lives because he uses these battles of sin to grow and mature us. Paul didn't say that God would not allow you to be tempted/period but wouldn't allow a temptation too great. In Matthew 4:1, God's prescribed plan for Jesus was a temptation in the wilderness for a particular reason. So with you and I.

B. Constructively Proving - The reason for the tempting is the proving. God is not finding out how well you are holding up under temptation, but sees you to see how well you stand up under temptation. The reality is that every time we are tempted we have a chance to bring God honor and glory by our obedience to God. The word translated temptation here is a word that has 2 basic meanings based on the context 1) entice toward sin "a) to test or to prove. Or another word I think of it this way

IV Closing - Have you ever been tempted to sin and you are right on the verge of that sin when there is an interruption, the phone rings, a knock at the door, someone enters the room. There is the rebuke,

- 1) Although you may not realize it, the temptation that you face is an important and constructive part of the Christian experience.
- 2) James 1:13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:
- 3) Matthew 4:1 Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.
- 4) ...Think of this way, when the devil tempts you to do wrong God is testing you to see whether you will do right! Nobody likes taking tests in school, but the tests show what we have learned! The tests show whether or not we are grasping the subject. The next time Satan places before you an enticing offer toward sin, remember that you have an opportunity to prove to the Father that you are learning what His Spirit is teaching!
- 5) ...relief of that interruption. 1 Corinthians 10:13 says that in any circumstance no matter where we are God faithfully interrupts our temptation with an escape route. Take it.
